John Romano, New Horizons of the Treasure Coast

■ John Romano, CEO of New Horizons of the Treasure Coast, has been elected chairman of the Florida Council for Mental Health. The council is a statewide association of mental health and substance abuse agencies committed to assuring that community treatment needs are being met. The council provides information to legislators about service needs, advocates for individuals coping with mental health and substance issues, and provides education and training for member agencies. Romano has been with New Horizons, the community's nonprofit mental health and substance abuse services provider, for more than 30 years.
